

Elaine Brach

Art Jewelry, Cheboygan, MI

I handcraft what I refer to as “art jewelry”. My pieces are one of a kind as I personally design and construct each one with a little bit of my heart, lots of thought and much love.

I work in all metals, gemstones, leather and crystals, but have a real affinity for upcycling and repurposing. For me it is fun to look at objects in nature, utility, and scrap and imagine how I can use them in a completely different way than their intended purpose. That challenge is pure joy to me. My friends and family have long accepted the fact that I will pick up shells, cans, fabric, paper, tin, and yes, even trash, and attempt to make them into wearable treasures.

I try to create pieces that appeal to a wide variety of tastes, but when I can, I experiment with unconventional methods and ideas and on occasion a bit of quirkiness. I like to think of my jewelry as wearable art.

For more information, you can contact Elaine at:
luckyainies@yahoo.com
and www.facebook.com/luckyainie/

Butterfly Earrings

Semi-precious Stones Necklace

Hand-painted, Leather Butterfly Necklace